Long call project: Reading about models for spatiotemporal count series. CARbayesST allows for using a binomial model with incidence of long-calls | trials (sampling period), but no option for count | exposure, which is more appropriate.
Also not sure about prior choice.

EFP conference working on abstract this week - still need to get some results.
Some of the details of the flanged male orangutan space-use patterns might be interesting. . . but also might not be that interesting

most orangutans fit OU movement models, some are OU-Foraging models
